

Berlin Epidemiological Methods Colloquium

2019 BEMC Talks

Time: First Wednesday of each month, 16:00-17:30

Location: Neurology Seminar Room, Bonhoefferweg 3,
Charité Campus Mitte

Email: BEMColloquium@charite.de

Web: bemcolloquium.com

 @BEMColloquium

Language: all events are in English

February 6th: Lars Andersen, Aarhus, Denmark

"The use of time-dependent propensity score matching to address changes in treatment and covariates over time"

March 6th: Maarten van Smeden, Leiden, Netherlands

"Shrinkage for causal inference"

April 3rd: Pamela Rist, Boston, USA

"One size does not fit all: teaching introductory epidemiology"

May 7th: Christoph Lippert, Potsdam, Germany

"Machine learning for population-based health studies"

June 5th: Jochen Kruppa, Berlin, Germany

"Cool applications in R for epidemiologists"

July 3rd: Suzanne Cannegieter, Leiden, Netherlands

"Pragmatic trials and lessons from venous thrombosis"

August – Summer Break, no BEMC Talk or JClub

September 4th: Malcom Barrett, Los Angeles, USA

"The methods behind R packages precisely and ggdag"

October – no BEMC Talk, join our IPH Lecture on Weds., October 23rd

John Gill, Vancouver, Canada

November 6th: Michelle Kelly-Irving, Toulouse, France

"The causes of the causes in context: confronting the burden of proof in lifecourse and social epi"

December 4th: Uwe Siebert, Hall in Tirol, Austria

Tentatively: "Decision analysis"

Want more BEMC?

Join us for our Journal Club on the 3rd Wednesday of the month! See web for monthly article.

Institute of Public Health

